

Cultivating Peace & Nonviolence at Home and in the World

A Residential Mindfulness Retreat with
Plum Blossom Sangha of Austin

February 15-17, 2002
Barsana Dham Ashram- Austin, TX

"...The year 2000 must be a new beginning, an opportunity to transform – all together – the culture of war and violence into a culture of peace and nonviolence." These words are from the United Nations Manifesto 2000 for a Culture of Peace and Nonviolence. Zen master and peace activist Thich Nhat Hanh helped draft the manifesto. He urges us to find concrete ways to bring peace and nonviolence into our individual lives and then into the world. Chan Huy, a Dharma Teacher ordained by Thich Nhat Hanh, will help us explore ways to transform our lives. This 2 day mindfulness retreat will be conducted in the tranquil setting of the Barsana Dham ashram a short drive southwest of Austin, TX.

Chan Huy, True Radiance, comes from a family with four generations of Thich Nhat Hanh's students, from his grandmother to his two children. If you wish to hear Thich Nhat Hanh in person but have not been able to do so, Chan Huy can give you a taste of that experience. He is certainly among the most accomplished and articulate of Thich Nhat Hanh's lay Dharma Teachers.
