Chan Huy

Since the 2000 retreat we have been repeatedly asked, "When can we get Chan Huy back?" We now can answer that question, May 29, 2003.

• Profound understanding • Deep caring for all • Articulate expression of the Dharma • A sense of humor that follows him like a shadow.

What else can we say about Chan Huy?

Chan Huy, True Radiance, comes from a family with four generations of Thich Nhat Hanh's students from his grandmother to his children.

An engineer, he is practical. Vietnamese, he grasps subtleties of Thich Nhat Hanh's teaching that might escape Westerners. Raised in France, he understands the West and fluidly articulates and interprets across cultures.

Chan Huy will give those who have not been able to retreat with Thich Nhat Hanh in person a taste of that experience via his Vietnamese roots generations deep in Buddhist practice and his deep understanding.

Retreat Start and End Times

Registration is between 5:00 and 7:00 pm on Thursday, May 29th. The retreat will end at approximately 2:00 pm on Sunday, June 1st. We are always appreciative of volunteers who can come early to help set up or stay later to help clean up.

Lodging and Food

Six Mile Estates offers delightful lakeside cabins, forest and lakeside for walking, and a comfortable hall for sitting meditation. While practicing mindfulness in the kitchen, our Sangha will prepare delicious vegetarian meals. We can usually accommodate special dietary needs if you give us advance notice.

Dana Donations

The teachings of the Buddha are considered priceless; teachers do not charge fees for their services. At the retreat, there will be an opportunity to make a donation to the teacher to support his teaching. For normally employed persons, $75.00 is suggested.

Scholarships

In order that no person is left out because of financial situation, various scholarships are available from Open Way. Contact Peggy (below) to apply.

This is not an intensive practice. [In your daily life] it asks of you only one short meditation period each day. But it is a continuous practice; asking us to be mindful in every moment.
